Top Stories of April 2024

Properties worldwide are continuing to deliver outstanding service to guests and drive strong revenue numbers, even in the face of staffing challenges and rapidly changing industry environments. To help ensure your teams' success, we've compiled the most important Association, IHG and industry news affecting hoteliers below, including recruitment support from the Canadian government.

Association Updates

- We are pleased to announce our 2024 Global Board of Directors, led by Chair Nellie Dhanji. Our valued Board members play an important role in ensuring our work helps strengthen the returns on members' investments in IHG hotels. With their help, 2024 promises to be a strong year of elevating the voice of the owner and providing unparalleled value to our members. Click here to read more and find a full listing of our Board members.
- Are you missing Free Nights in your IHG One Rewards account? Every Association member is entitled to one Annual Allocation of 25 Free Nights per property and may purchase an additional Annual Allocation per property for $700. Make sure to assign all your Annual Allocations today by logging into the Member Center, visiting the Membership tab at the top, then clicking the Annual Allocations tab.

Government Updates

- CANADA ONLY: Applications are now open for the Canadian government's Recognized Employer Program (REP), a pilot project that helps employers who regularly use the Temporary Foreign Worker Program (TFWP) get streamlined access to find and hire workers. The deadline to become a recognized employer is September 16, 2024—click here to learn more.

Industry Partners

- U.S. ONLY: A recent survey conducted by the American Hotel & Lodging Association (AHLA) has revealed that despite increased wages, which hit a record high in December 2023, more than two-thirds (67%) of hotels are still experiencing staffing shortages. While an improvement over May 2023's rate of 82%, there is still a significant gap to close, which hotels have responded to by offering greater flexibility and expanded benefits. Read the report.
- The 2024 Hunter Hotel Investment Conference (HUNTER), the industry event designed to build new connections and help owners make lucrative business deals, returns to Atlanta March 19-21, 2024. Thousands of hospitality professionals will gather to network and gain insights from expert speakers, including IHG Americas CEO Jolyon Bulley. Register today.

IHG Information

- AMER ONLY: IHG will be hosting a live, virtual session for owners of IHG Essentials & Suites and Premium hotels on Wednesday, February 21 at 11 AM ET discussing the various ways they are delivering for owners and driving performance in 2024. Hear from Americas CEO Jolyon Bulley, COO Jay Caiafa and SVP, Americas Commercial & Revenue Management Brian Hicks, who will dedicate time to answering questions from owners. Register here.
